U.S. BOMBS 2 HANOI MISSILE SITES

The Long Arm Of The Law

Peaceful picketing in Detroit over the weekend created some antagonism within police ranks that ended with police Sgt. Robert M. Robertson (left, hands on hips) knocking out his boss Lt. George Rose. Lt. Rose had told the pickets they could picket peacefully when Robertson arrived on the scene and began shouting, "break it up." The officers discussed the matter (left) when Robertson apparently became angry, punched out Rose and acting as the highest-ranking conscious officer walked to the crowd (right) and told them to disperse. (UPI Telephoto)

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A fleet of 46 U.S. fighter-bombers today swooped down in low-level attacks on two North Vietnamese anti-aircraft missile sites, the Pentagon announced.

Three U.S. planes were shot down, the announcement said. One of the missile sites was reported destroyed and the other badly damaged.

Two parachutes were seen to open, indicating that two of the three U. S. pilots whose planes were struck by conventional anti-aircraft fire may have reached the ground safely.

The missile sites were 40 miles northwest of Hanoi. They were in addition to five anti-aircraft missile sites which have been spotted in the Hanoi area itself.

The Defense Department said that in absence of any information to the contrary, it assumed the missile sites were manned by North Vietnamese.

The Pentagon said conventional anti-aircraft fire was "intense," but no missiles were launched against the attacking U.S. planes.

The Defense Department said it had been concluded that a U.S. Phantom jet shot down Saturday was struck by a missile from one of the sites attacked today.

It was the first use of an anti-aircraft missile in the Vietnamese war. Today's statement was the first official confirmation that the Phantom had been struck by a missile at an altitude of 20,000 feet.

Today's attack apparently was made from tree-top level where missiles would be ineffective against the raiders.

Assistant Defense Secretary Arthur Sylvester said the missiles are believed to be the same as the Soviet-built types installed in Cuba, known as the Sam-2.

These have a range of about 25 miles.

Bucks Urges Aid For Job Center

The Bucks County Commissioners this morning officially recognized and endorsed the Bucks County Opportunities Industrialization Center in Bristol which will help unemployed and under-employed county residents qualify for skilled jobs that offer economic security.

The commissioners adopted a resolution commending the center as "a valuable and important new institution for the welfare and prosperity of Bucks County."

The resolution also urged all citizens as well as business and industry to participate in and support this countywide effort.

Steering Committee

The action was taken at the request of a steering committee headed by Rev. Carroll P. Boswell, pastor of Bethel AME Church, Bristol.

He told the commissioners the center will offer industrial training to all persons it can help regardless of race, creed or residence in the county.

The center will be an independent organization, the pastor said, with county civic leaders, businessmen, and industrialists serving as board of directors.

Committee Members

On the steering committee are Sol Feinstein of Washington Crossing, a director of the Philadelphia Opportunities Industrialization Center; Millard Mitchell of Yardley, secretary-treasurer and a past president of the Bucks Chapter, NAACP.

Also, Rev. Rowland L. Carlson of the Doylestown Methodist Church; Rev. John Eldred of First Baptist Church of Levittown, Fairless Hills; George Haines, president and Thomas Colgan, director of the William Penn Center, Fallsington; E. J. Lever of Solebury Township and Charles Chisholm of Bristol Township.

Cites Problems

Assisting the steering committee is a "committee of concern" of 45 members who live in the county. The Rev. Pontius Todd, pastor of the Race St. Baptist Church, Bristol, is acting administrator at an office at 220 Wood St.

"We decided to establish the center," Rev. Boswell said, "after a study of the county's needs." (Continued on Page 12, Col. 7)

Changing The Cabinet

Health-Education Secretary Named Judge

LBJ Appoints Republican To Cabinet

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson announced today that Anthony J. Celebrezze is resigning as secretary of welfare to take a federal judgeship.

John W. Gardner, a Republican and president of the Carnegie Corp., will be named to the Cabinet post.

Johnson announced his fourth Cabinet appointment at a special ceremony in the flower garden outside his office. Celebrezze and Gardner, who was chairman of a special presidential task force on education last year, stood by.

Celebrezze, an Italian immigrant who was a longtime mayor of Cleveland, is being nominated for a vacancy on the 6th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals, which has headquarters in Cincinnati.

In announcing this, Johnson said:

"I have both a feeling of pride in Celebrezze's accession to this high court — and a reluctance in seeing him depart the department he has guided so skillfully."

Speaking of Gardner, Johnson said: "He is regarded by his peers as one of the most knowledgeable men in the field of U.S. education."

Gardner, besides heading the task force that helped prepare Johnson's 1965 legislative proposals in the field of education, was described by the President as having inspired last week's White House Conference on Education.

Gardner, who was born in Los Angeles in 1912, has been president of the Carnegie Corp. for the past 10 years. He also heads the Carnegie Endowment for the Advancement of Teaching.

The Carnegie Corp. is a foundation that administers the philanthropies initiated by steel baron Andrew Carnegie.

Johnson took passing note of Gardner's Republican Alliances in talking about him before a small audience of reporters in the rose garden. He said:

"He's a P.H.D., an ex-Marine, a former intelligence officer, an author and a Republican, though not necessarily in this order of importance or proportion of significance."

Gardner was educated at Stanford University and the University of California. Holder of honorary degrees from a dozen colleges and universities in the United States and Canada, he taught psychology at Mount Holyoke College and Connecticut College. (Continued on Page 12, Col. 5)

Got $7,925; Car, Man's Size Only Leads

Widen Hunt For Bank Thief

By SCOOP LEWIS
Courier-Times Staff Writer

A Chrysler product type car of gold or beige color and a six-foot, two-inch man about 40 years old today are the objects of a widespread hunt by FBI agents, state, county and local police.

These are the only leads police have in their search for the gunman who held up three tellers in the Fidelity - Philadelphia Trust Co. yesterday on Route 13, Croydon, and escaped with $7,925.

The holdup took place at 12:10 p.m. in full view of five customers who were held at bay by the bandit who flashed a fully-loaded .32 caliber stub-nosed revolver wrapped in a newspaper.

The robber escaped despite the efforts of the bank manager, John Steiner of 1145 Elberta Ave., Cornwells Heights, to pursue him. Steiner told police he first became aware of the bandit when he noticed "an odd, funny expression" on the face of his chief teller, Mark O'Donnell of 412 Grant Ave., Croydon. Steiner stepped on an alarm button on the floor of his office and ran after the robber.

The bandit ran out the front door into a car which was parked next to a telephone booth, 35 feet from the bank. Steiner gave chase in his car but lost the bandit's trail after going south on Route 13 for a half-mile.

Gold or Beige

From Steiner's description, police are looking for a Chrysler product type car of the Dodge Dart, Plymouth Valiant or Barracuda style, of either gold or beige color. Police said the left lower edge of the license plate on the getaway car was "bent up."

Today, police continued questioning witnesses who were in the area of the bank at noon-time yesterday. Between 11:55 a.m. and 12:20 p.m. today, police stopped all persons entering the bank to ask them if they were there yesterday.

House Technicality

Bad Writ Frees 4 Of Drug Charge

Four men, one sporting a beard, the other three wearing Beatle-type long hairdos, were freed of narcotics charges in Bucks County Court this morning because of a faulty search warrant.

The men, two from Wrightstown Township and two from New York City, were arrested July 15 at a farm on Brownsburg Road in Wrightstown after narcotics agents searched the farmhouse and allegedly found narcotics in leaf form and cigarettes. They also discovered a patch of marijuana being grown on the farm. Agents also confiscated LSD and other drugs.

Ruled Illegal

President Judge Edward G. Biester ruled that the search warrant with which narcotics agents were armed when the arrests were made was illegal because it described the house simply as a red house measuring about 20 by 30 feet. Judge Biester indicated that the warrant did not specify a particular house.

Arrested at the time were John Przybyslawski, 24, and Michael Orrell, 20, of Wrightstown, tenants of the farmhouse and Joseph Kosok, 23, and Barry Schilan, 23, of New York City.

"Do Something About It"

Judge Biester after announcing that he was freeing the four on a technicality, addressed them after being assured by their attorney, William Goldman of Levittown, that his clients had just been passing through Bucks County and would move on.

Medicare And Social Security: No. 2

Who Gets Health Benefits—And How

By JOHN TROAN
NEA Special Writer
(Second of a series)

Born before 1937? You're assured of Medicare benefits, even if you've never paid a cent in Social Security taxes.

However, those born in 1937 or later must have credit for a certain amount of work under Social Security to qualify for health benefits upon reaching age 65.

Some Excluded

This working period ranges from 1½ to 10 years. Generally, the older you are the less Social Security coverage you'll need. Also, women need fewer "credits" than men.

Some people are excluded from Medicare — chiefly federal workers and their dependents who are enrolled in the health plan established for them by the Federal Employees Health Benefits Act of 1959.

Also excluded: (1) aliens who haven't been admitted to the United States for permanent residence; (2) other aliens who haven't lived in the United States continuously for the five years just before filing a Medicare claim; (3) members of subversive organizations, and (4) persons convicted of such high crimes as sabotage, espionage and sedition.

He's Eligible

But if a federal employee or an alien who would otherwise be excluded happens — because of some previous employment — to be entitled to Social Security or Railroad Retirement benefits, he's eligible for Medicare.

Medicare benefits start July 1, 1966. At the same time, extra health benefits become available to persons who buy supplemental insurance through the U.S. government.

Even If On Relief

This supplemental health insurance will be offered to anyone 65 or older who is eligible for basic Medicare benefits. Also, to federal employees who can't qualify for the basic benefits.

Good Evening!

President Johnson creates a 19-member commission for a war on crime.

About time, we'd say, for the nation to start taking seriously this cancerous malady with which it has been afflicted. Crime rate in the country up 13 per cent last year over 1963 for the worst record ever.

Philadelphia region and Pennsylvania contributing to the shame, of course.

And Bucks County not doing too badly, come to think of it. Within four days two major bank holdups, the latest happening yesterday when a gunman fled with $7,925 from the Fidelity-Philadelphia Trust's Croydon branch.

There'll be a day when the police, the courts and the public throughout America become sufficiently aroused to do something about growing lawlessness and general disrespect for authority. Maybe the new commission will help.

Weather cooler today. Still hardly a sprinkle of rain in sight.

Drought or not, however, did you ever see the petunias so pretty?

Phillies start over again tonight with a doubleheader at Pittsburgh. Gee, it would be nice to see 'em win two in a row. With a reasonable victory streak, that seven-game deficit wouldn't be so difficult to overcome.

Allie Sherman signs a new 10-year contract at $50,000 per year as coach of the Giants and Joe Kuharich turns to a youth movement as he bears down on the Eagles at Hershey. All of this a sign summer soon will be on the wane?

A real test of will power is to have the same ailment some person is describing to you — and not mention it.

Adolescence is when children start bringing up their parents.

At Start Of Divorce Trial

Man Tries To Kill Wife In Courtroom

CLEVELAND (AP) — There were four bullet holes in the oak paneling of Courtroom 8 on the third floor of Lakeside Avenue Courthouse today—evidence of a distraught husband's terrifying attempt to kill his estranged wife.

Bleeding from the shoulder and screaming, Mrs. Ruth Lowe, 35, ran from the courtroom into the corridor Monday afternoon. She dashed through the jury box and back into the courtroom, then through the jury box and back into the corridor.

Today she is in fair condition, with wounds in the neck and right arm.

Her husband, John, 50, ran downstairs while sheriffs' deputies were on their way up from the first floor. Efforts to find him failed until he surrendered to police today.

Lowe was held without formal charge for questioning.

Lowe, a furniture company laborer, and his wife, who sued for divorce a year ago, were seated on a bench in the courtroom outside the jury box when the trouble started. Their divorce trial was soon to begin. She had charged him with extreme cruelty and neglect.

According to Detective Lt. Carl Delaw, Lowe was pleading for a reconciliation, then suddenly pulled a revolver from a paper bag and fired. The wounded woman—crying "Help me"—ran through the rear doors of the courtroom, Lowe in pursuit.

Bailiff Michael Volin said: "She was bleeding at the shoulder. She ran to the witness table and then through the jury box and out the back door. He shot at her four times in the courtroom."

3 Governors Join Forces To Fight Drought Problem

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — The governors of New Jersey, New York, Pennsylvania and Delaware joined forces Monday to deal with the drought and other common problems.

New Jersey Gov. Richard J. Hughes announced the formation of a Middle Atlantic States Governors' Conference made up of the governors of the four states.

Gov. William Scranton of Pennsylvania is serving as temporary chairman of the group, which will meet in September after an Aug. 5 conference of staff people.

In a news conference at the national governors' conference here Monday, Hughes said the Middle Atlantic governors had reached no decision on whether to ask President Johnson to declare the Northeast a drought disaster area.

Such a declaration would pave the way for massive federal aid to build pipelines and finance other emergency projects.

Hughes said he would confer with Interior Secretary Stewart Udall on Aug. 2 on the possibility of the presidential declaration.

The New Jersey governor said he wanted to look further into some legal aspects of a disaster designation and what kind of federal aid would be available.

The Mid-Atlantic governors' conference also will work on such problems as air and water pollution and transportation, Hughes said.

Reds Blast 'Western Imperialism'

Johnson Calls For Arms Control Pact

GENEVA (UPI) — President Johnson called on the 17-nation disarmament conference today to achieve arms control agreements for the sake of the future of mankind.

Johnson's message was read to the conference as it resumed after a 10-month recess. He cited three priorities for the conference: —Limitation of "the perilous spread of nuclear weapons."

—The "effective limitation of nuclear weapons and nuclear delivery vehicles."

—A truly comprehensive test ban treaty.

Earlier, the Soviet Union charged the West with preparing "for a big war."

The conference also heard an appeal from United Nations Secretary General Thant for responsibility and restraint to prevent an intensified arms race.

The conference got off to a rough start when Soviet delegate Semyon K. Tsarapkin accused the "Western imperialists" of "Western aggression in Viet Nam, the Congo and Latin America and of preparing "for big war."

It was clear Tsarapkin meant the United States. He listed alleged preparations for a "big war" as including the calling up of reserves—an obvious reference to plans under consideration in Washington because of the growing Viet Nam crisis.

He accused the West of blocking progress on new arms control measures and said the present situation "is very dangerous" and requires increased efforts on general and complete disarmament and reduction of international tension.

"We must begin to act and stop standing in one place," he said. However, he did not give any indication Moscow is ready to negotiate on anything but its own terms.

As Tsarapkin spoke, Communists cast a somber shadow over the Geneva talks by charging the United States wants a treaty to ban the spread of nuclear arms only to maintain its own nuclear superiority.

The statement was made by Red Chinese Premier Chou En-lai in a message to a nuclear conference in Tokyo. He called the U.S. proposals for a treaty against proliferation of nuclear weapons a "fraud."

Tsarapkin, met earlier with U.S. chief negotiator William C. Foster and reached what may be the only agreement of the session by the two co-chairmen—that of procedure.

The U.S. and Soviet delegates agreed the conference should start off by meeting three times a week—Tuesday, Thursday and Friday. At previous sessions there were only two weekly meetings.

For Civil Rights Protest

3 Priests, Council Head Fined $125

CHICAGO (UPI) — Three Roman Catholic Priests and the executive director of the Catholic Interracial Council were fined $125 each yesterday for their part in a civil rights demonstration last month.

The priests were the first to be convicted in Civil rights protests here.

One of them, the Rev. John J. Hill, 40, said he would "go to my death" contesting that he was innocent of the charges that he and the others sat down in a street intersection.

John McDermott, director of the Interracial Council, called the verdict "completely unjust."

"It is a hard duty for me to sit here," said Magistrate James P. Piragone, "but we must have law and order, irrespective of the Cloth of the Church."

Six police officers testified against the four defendants. Among the officers was Capt. John T. Kelly, Deputy Superintendent of Police.

McDermott denied sitting in the street during the demonstration in which 228 persons were arrested. "This verdict is completely unjust," he said. "I know that I am not guilty."

Father Hill said "Three police officers . . . said I was sitting in the intersection of Balboa and Columbus. I will go to my death to substantiate the fact that I was not sitting there."

The other two priests were the Rev. Richard Heidkamp, 34, and the Rev. Thomas Heaney, 27. Father Heidkamp testified that he sat in the street because he was tired and Father Heaney said he sat in the street because he wanted to read a magazine.

All four planned to appeal.

Man Is Charged Following Crash

A Philadelphia man was charged with reckless driving by Middletown Township police as the result of an accident yesterday at 4:40 p.m. in which both vehicles involved were a total loss, police said.

The man was John G. Kronberger, 26, of 935 E. Borbeck Ave., who was driving a utility truck which was involved in the accident on Woodbourne Road at Cobalt Cross Road with a car operated by William Safee, 39, of 37 Cobalt Cross Road, Cobalt Ridge, Levittown.

Kronberger suffered nose bleeds and Nicholas Sahi, 55, of 7337 Clearidge St., Philadelphia, a passenger in the truck, received abrasions to the forehead. All three were taken to Lower Bucks County Hospital by the Pennel-Middletown Rescue where they were treated and released.

Actress Constance Bennett, who died Saturday at nearby Fort Dix, N. J., had visited and worked in Bucks County.

She had appeared in "Sabrina Fair" at the Bucks County Playhouse in New Hope in 1954, following in the theatrical footsteps of her late father.

Playhouse staffers recalled that her father, Actor Richard Bennett, had run a summer workshop for actors way back during the opening season of the playhouse in 1939.

Constance, sister of Joan and Barbara Bennett, both well-known actresses, had given up her Hollywood career since she became the wife of Brig. Gen. Theron Coulter, who was commander of the N. Y. Air Defense Sector with headquarters at McGuire Air Force Base. She died at 59.

Two Bristol Borough policemen recently spent their day-off on a trip to Baseball's Hall of Fame in Cooperstown, N.Y. Sgt. Mike Manto and Patrolman John Tortu drove up and had a day-long outing. "It was very interesting," Mike said, "I'd never been there before."

They saw many of the old-time baseball players such as Jimmy Foxx, Frankie Frisch, Joe Cronin, Ford Frick, and then watched the Yankees-Phillies game on Doubleday Field, the first baseball field ever used in 1839.

The two policemen have a special interest in the sport since Mike plays leftfield and John is catcher for St. Ann's team in the Bristol Borough Softball League.

Just to keep things from getting out of hand they also took along Frank Russo, an umpire in the Bucks County area.

Fire Causes $100 Damage

Fire, that may have been caused by a nine-year old boy playing with matches, last night damaged the window area and drapes of an upstairs room in the home of Richard Nolan Sr., 66 Quaker Hill Road, Quincey Hollow, Levittown. Damage was estimated at $100.

Firemen from Levittown Fire Co. No. 2 and the William Penn Fire Co. of Hulmeville, responded at 8 p.m. and remained on the scene about three-quarters of an hour. Chief Vincent La-tonica of Levittown 2 is investigating the blaze which, he said, may have been caused by Richard Jr. playing with matches.

Watching TV

Mrs. Harry Roberts, a neighbor, who was caring for the three Nolan children at the time of the fire, said she had the two smaller children, Jeffrey, 4, and Scotty, 2, outside and that Richard Jr., who had been watching television, said he wanted to get some comic books and went upstairs. A short time later he called her and told her the drapes were on fire.

Mrs. Roberts said she raced to the room and attempted to beat out the fire with a blanket but that the rod gave way and the burning drapes fell to the floor. She said she then picked up a bowling trophy and used it to break the window so she could throw the draperies out.

One fireman, Robert O'Connell, 20, of 311 Goldenridge Drive, Levittown, a member of Levittown Fire Co. No. 2, collapsed as he was getting off a fire truck. He was taken to Lower Bucks County Hospital by the Levittown-Fairless Hills Rescue Squad where he was treated for heat exhaustion and released.

Joan Bennett Opens In Play

GILFORD, N.H. (AP) — Actress Joan Bennett opened Monday night in a straw hat production despite the death Saturday of her sister, Constance.

She said she would fly to New York today for the funeral and return for tonight's performance of "Never Too Late," in which she costars with Tom Ewell.

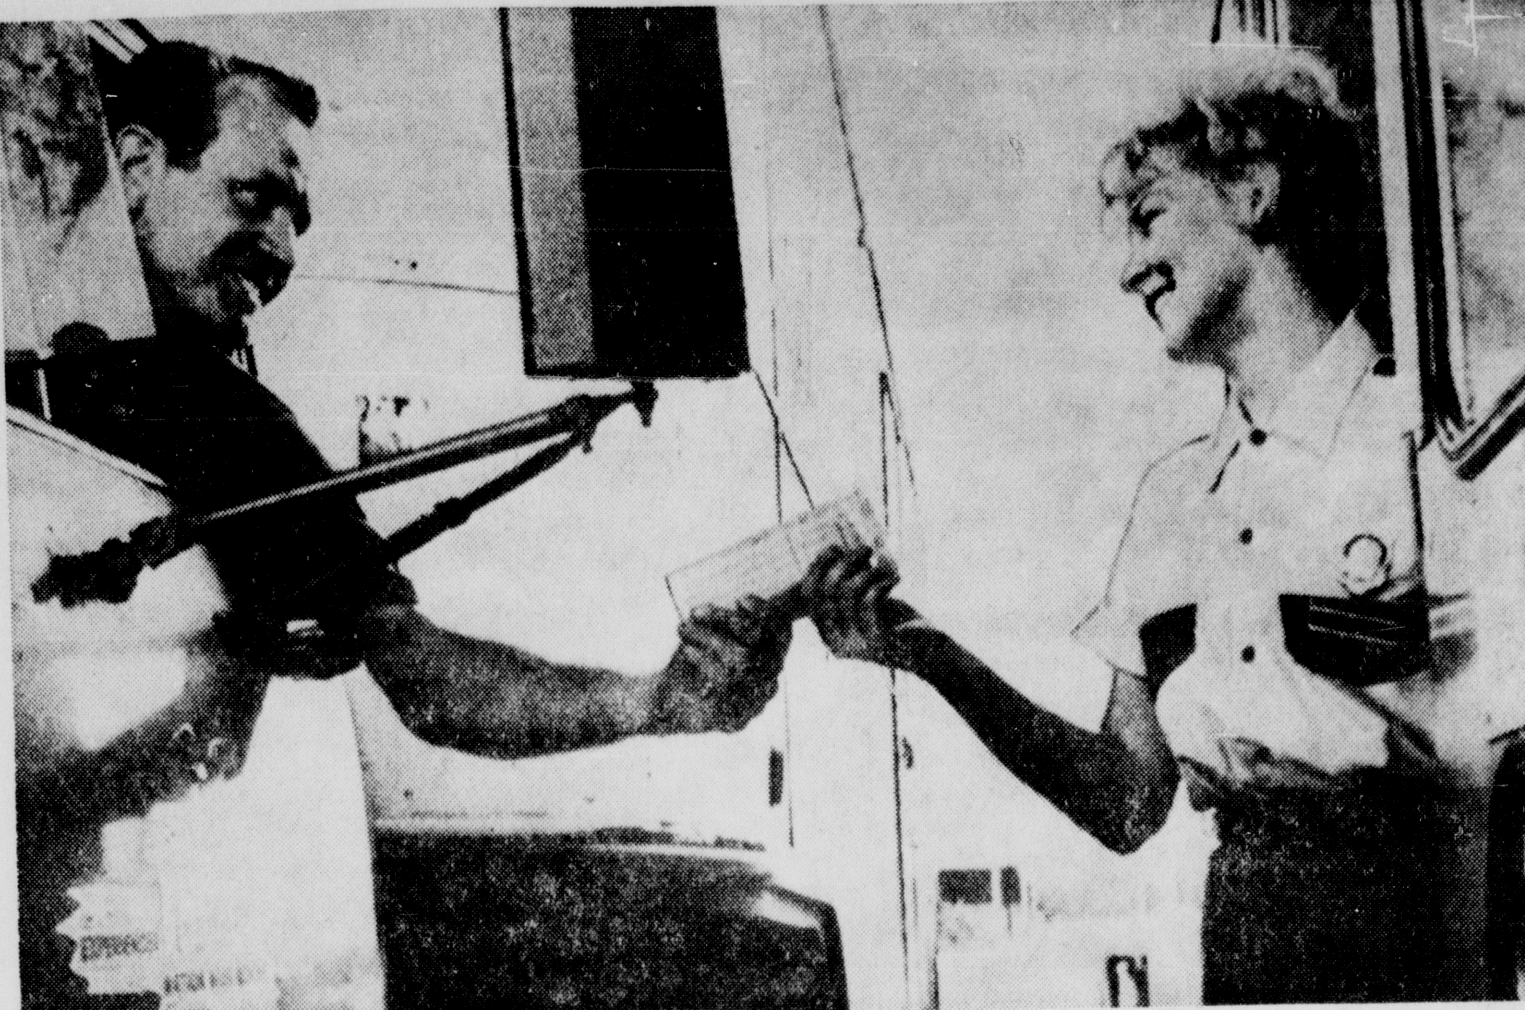

"When you are a show business family for 100 years as we are," Miss Bennett said, "the cliché about 'the show must go on' is not really a cliché but a fact of life."

4 Inmates Accused Of Burglary Ring

LOCK HAVEN, Pa. (UPI) — Four men were accused Monday of operating a burglary ring while they were inmates in two county jails, about 30 miles apart.

Fire Quelled At Lodge

About 50 patrons at the restaurant of the George Washington Motor Lodge had late evening snacks interrupted for nearly an hour last night when smoke from a fire in a grease duct seeped into the restaurant.

Firemen reported that the fire did little damage and was quickly extinguished but locating it was another matter. The duct, they said, runs from a charcoal grill in the restaurant to the second floor roof of the building on Route 1 above Street Road, Bensalem Township. It makes a number of turns on its way, they said. Damage was confined to a portion of the wall of the second-floor banquet room and the ceiling of the kitchen. No estimate of damage was available.

Firemen from the Trevose Fire Co. were summoned to the scene at 10:52 p.m. and requested assistance a short time later. Nottingham and Eddington fire companies from Bensalem Township and the Trevose Heights and Feasterville fire companies from Lower Southampton responded. The Pennell Fire Co. went on standby alert. Firemen remained on the scene for about 2½ hours.

Includes Rent Subsidy

WASHINGTON (AP) — A $7.5 billion housing bill containing a rent subsidy provision for low-income families was ready for final congressional approval today.

Passed Monday by the Senate, the compromise measure backed by the Johnson administration was scheduled for a mid-afternoon House vote expected to send it to the President.

The bill would authorize creation of new programs and continuation of major existing housing programs for the next four years.

Its most controversial provision is the rent subsidy plan which would cost $350 million over the next four years.

Businessmen Meet Tomorrow

The newly formed Bristol Township Businessmen's Association, Route 13 at Beaver Dam Road.

Temporary president Pat Deon, will present a sample set of bylaws to the group and introduce guest speaker, Warren Lykens, of the Lower Bucks County Chamber of Commerce.

Deon invited all Bristol Township businessmen to join the group. He urged the local businessmen to become active in helping to make Bristol Township a "better place in which to live and to do business."

$6,000 Changes Okd For Addition

With the Bucks County Technical School's $1,850,000 addition nearing completion, the joint committee is having its problems concerning "aesthetic and functional changes" in the contracting plans.

Architect Ronald E. Vaughn of Yardley appeared at last night's meeting and requested changes in the original plans to totaling $6,000.

The committee, although generally in favor of the additions, had some questions concerning the necessity of spending $2,700 for oak paneling leading into the new cafeteria-commons area.

Approved Changes

Tech School Principal George M. Schaffer told the committee he had approved all changes which he felt were necessary to the function of the building. Other changes, he said, were up to the discretion of the committee.

Several committee members felt the oak paneling was "not aesthetically necessary."

However, the board approved all additions presented by Vaughn, leaving $27,000 in the building contingency fund. The addition is scheduled for completion Aug. 3.

Passes Motion

The committee also passed a motion stating that all change orders requested between now and Aug. 23 must be approved by the four officers on the committee upon the recommendation of Schaffer.

Officers include John Bodnarik, president Thomas J. Walsh Jr., vice president; William H. Miller, vice president, and Wallace C. Edington, treasurer.

The committee also:

—Approved a contract for distribution services of Philadelphia Electric Co.

—Approved a telephone system for expanded building facilities.

Counselor Resigns

Accepted the resignation of Charles R. Zimmermann, guidance counselor, who was to report for work July 1 but he was unable to accept the position.

—Authorized the superintendent and principal to spend up to $500 for emergency custodial service in order to clean up the building before the start of school in September.

Representatives of the press who attend joint committee meetings will not be mentioned in the meetings minutes although a motion to that effect was made last night. The motion, made by Morris Feldman, received only one other vote of approval, that of Jerry Cade.

Other members felt that to mention press representatives was "not necessary."

$40 Taken From Service Station

About $40 in change was taken from vending machines burglarized at Ciambrell Brothers service station, Newportville-Fallsington and Edgely Roads, Levittown.

Bristol Township police said the theft occurred between 6:30 p.m. Sunday and 6:45 a.m. yesterday. The intruders opened the vending machines with keys which were taken from a desk drawer.

Quints Born In N. Zealand

AUCKLAND, N.Z. (UPI) — Mrs. Shirley Ann Lawson, 26, gave birth today to New Zealand's first quintuplets — four boys and a girl. All were reported in good health.

Less than two hours later she was sitting up in bed sipping tea and musing aloud, "I expected four, but five, oh dear me no."

Her husband W. W. Lawson, owner of a fish and chips shop, said he felt as if he had been stopped by a traffic officer and was saying, "I didn't mean to do it."

"The whole thing has just not registered with me yet," he said.

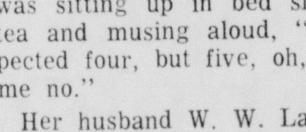

Mrs. Lawson interposed, "I have absolutely nothing prepared for them. I have been in the hospital three months just waiting and wondering. We will just have to start from scratch again."

The Lawsons have one other child, a five-year-old daughter, Lee Ann.

The babies were placed in incubators as a precaution. The boy was born first and weighed four pounds.

The girls weighed 3 pounds, 4 ounces, 4 pounds, 3 ounces, 4 pounds, 2 ounces, 3 pounds 7½ ounces.

Pastor Speaks

St. John's Church Lays Cornerstone

After a week's postponement because of inclement weather, the congregation of St. John's Evangelical Lutheran Church, Lower Makefield Township, held cornerstone ceremonies Sunday at its new church building.

Rev. Donald B. Landis, pastor, led the congregation in the noon ceremonies which marked another step in the plans for a new church complex for the parish at Pine Grove and Big Oak Roads.

Those participating in the cornerstone ceremonies with Rev. Mr. Landis were John Hoyer, church council vice president; John Muelhausen, building committee chairman; Burdette Theophilus, Sunday School superintendent; Mrs. Harrison Cunningham, Lutheran Church Women, chairman and Mrs. Ernest Holmstrom, chairman of the Altar Guild.

Placed in the cornerstone of the grey-stone building were a Bible, the Sunday church bulletin, the constitutions of the various church organizations, books containing the autographs of the 270 confirmed members of the church and books containing the autographs of the Sunday School members.

More than 50 members of the congregation and children participated in the ceremonies at the church site.

Rev. Mr. Landis spoke briefly as each of the items were placed into the cornerstone.

Sunny Day

The church had planned to hold the ceremonies July 18, but because of the torrential rains in the area the exercises had to be postponed. Sunday's program was held under bright and sunny skies.

The church is the first of the buildings to be completed and will form the nucleus of the parish's activities. It will seat 203 persons and have classrooms, nurseries, offices and other functional rooms. A parking area for 40 cars has been planned for the three-acre site.

Ground was broken for the building last November and work on the church started in January of this year. The new building was designed by Harold E. Wagoner and Associates, Philadelphia architects.

First Meeting

Rev. Mr. Landis will hold the first meeting of the committee for the church's dedication ceremonies tonight at 8 o'clock in the church.

He said initial plans for the dedication services will be made at tonight's meeting. Tentative plans call for the dedication to be held sometime in the fall but Rev. Mr. Landis said no official date has been set.

Members of the initial planning committee will be Harold Schupfky, chairman; Francis Hoke, Albert Kyselka and William Kaiser. Other members will be appointed at a later date, Rev. Landis said.

Trainmen Fete Kettler

Robert M. Kettler (left), former trainmaster of the Morrisville PRR (Yard), is congratulated by J. A. Foshee, general superintendent for the PRR from Pittsburgh. Kettler was honored by fellow workers after he was transferred and promoted to assistant superintendent of the PRR in Wilmington, Del. The ceremony and dinner were held at the Sherwood House, J. F. Nicely is the new trainmaster at Morrisville. G. H. Cump, assistant trainmaster at Morrisville, was chairman for the dinner honoring Kettler.

Pick Brudon Legion Head

Charles Brudon has been elected commander of the Sanford-Diletto American Legion Post 433, Morrisville, at recent elections.

No date has been set for installation for the coming year, until arrangements have been completed. The date will be announced later, George W. Duke, publicity chairman said.

Other officers elected are: Francis Nolan, senior vice commander; Carmen Caribardi, junior vice commander; Fred Cooley, adjutant; Nolan, service officer; Leo Smith, sergeant-at-arms; Herbert R. LaRue Sr., finance officer; Duke, chaplain and William May, judge advocate.

The executive committee will be Marvin Coulton, Smith, Michael Yuskos, Harrison Ullmer, Fred Cooley and Herbert LaRue.

OFFICER RECALLED — The State Department has confirmed that Bruce T. Odell, a political officer at the U. S. Embassy in Cairo, has been brought home for "consultations" and reassignment.

Department press officer Marshall Wright said Monday Odell was detained by Egyptian police who found him in the company of a leading Cairo editor charged with passing information to the U. S. Central Intelligence Agency (CIA).
